Mr. L. D. Caskey
Museum of Fine Arts
Boston, Mass.

My dear Mr. Caskey:

Your letter to Mr. Newell I opened, as he is now in Greece, and I do not expect him back much before June. Therefore, he will not be able to help you out, and I do not know anyone at the present moment to refer you to.

I am planning to leave for England about the middle of April, and am hoping to get up to Boston either in March or just before I sail. If I do, I will drop in and take a look at you.

Very truly,

Curator.

Dear Mr. Caskey:

Can you give me the correct name and address of (as I know it) Denis K. Tsaklenis? I think he was somewhere in Chelsea. He came to us some time ago with a lot of coins. If I remember rightly, he was instrumental in selling you that gold bowl.

Trusting you are well, and with best wishes for 1924, I am,

Very truly yours,

Curator

Dear Mr. Wood,

I am sorry to be so late in replying to your letter. Mr. Hawes who carried on the negotiations with Tseklenis has been trying to find his address, but in vain. He returned to Greece soon after selling up the boat, and has never showed up at the Museum since. He no longer lives where he lived formerly. Mr. Hawes suggests that a letter addressed to him c/o Mr. Stratos, Plymouth Lunch, Bromfield St., might reach him. Stratos is a friend of his. But I can't find the Lunch Room listed in the telephone book.

Sincerely yours,

L. S. Caskey

Dear Mr. Wood,

Mr. Hawes has just discovered a note with the following address:

Denis K. Tseklenis

120 Shurtleff Street

Chelsea.

It was apparently given him by Mr. Roe when he was here last autumn.

Sincerely yours,

L. D. Caskey
